How Many Can My Boat Take Aboard? New Recreational Boat Upper Deck Capacity Standards

ALEXANDRIA, Va., September 9, 2016 - The membership organization that sets safety standards for recreational boat design and manufacturing, the American Boat & Yacht Council (ABYC), has revised its "Boat Capacity" (H-5) standard for upper decks on recreational boats. Upper decks are often referred to as the "fly bridge" or "upper helm." The new standard, which is partly in response to fatal capsizing accidents involving overloaded fly bridges, will now include upper-deck weight capacity regardless of boat length.

Upper decks are typically found on boats greater than 25 feet and often found on fly bridge sportfish vessels, trawlers, houseboats and even some pontoon boats.

"New boats with upper decks will soon have an additional capacity placard for those areas to help boaters make smart choices about loading and stability," said BoatUS Seaworthy magazine Editor Charles Fort. "This will help ensure boaters don't make the mistake of overloading the upper deck."

The majority of boats built today adhere to ABYC's voluntary standards through the National Marine Manufacturers Association certification program. Additionally, ABYC offers standards for the maintenance and repair of recreational boats. "A boat that's designed, built, maintained or repaired to ABYC standards helps ensure a safe day on the water," added Fort.

Owners of older boats with upper decks may find the capacity in their owner's manual or by contacting the manufacturer.

An issue for small and large boats, capsizings and sinkings are at the heart of a new BoatUS Marine Insurance Program study that looked at five years of the association's member insurance claims files. The study reveals how these accidents happen and what boaters can do to avoid them, and it can be found in the August 2016 issue of BoatUS Seaworthy at <http://goo.gl/m3hqO3>. Data shows that while most capsizes occurred in smaller boats, 18% occurred in boats over 25 feet.

For more information on ABYC standards, go to <http://abycinc.org>.

Rapsody Yachts Announce the New Rapsody Tender

Rapsody Yachts is pleased to announce the launch of their new yacht, the Rapsody Tender.

The Rapsody Tender is an elegant and spacious dayboat, built for speed and class. The underwater hull is designed to be fast, but safe and without a spray. This, combined with a strong Volvo Penta diesel engine, creates a top speed of 34 knots.

The latest marine technologies are applied on the Rapsody Tender. For example, Rapsody worked closely together with Volvo Penta to implement their new battery management system. With this system it is possible to make your Rapsody ready to sail with a single push on the remote controle.

Much attention is also paid on the interior of the Rapsody Tender. There is a royal toilet area inside the console. At the back as well as at the front there is the option to create sunbathing areas. The Rapsody Tender is also equipped with two refrigerators as a standard feature to keep your drinks cold. Another detail is the barista-coffee bar which is placed at the side of the Tender so every morning will be a joy on the water.

About Rapsody Yachts

Rapsody Yachts is a high end yacht manufacturer based in Heeg, the Netherlands. Rapsody Yachts finds its origins in the yacht brokerage, where exclusive and classic shipyard boats from the Netherlands and Scandinavia found proud new owners. In 1999, as a response to a growing demand for state-of-art motor yachts in the top segments, Rapsody Yachts started building new classically contoured, high-speed motor yachts. Nowadays more than 300 Rapsody's are sailing along the coastlines of Western-Europe and the Mediterranean. For more information and high res pictures please email Diederik van Golen at dvangolen@rapsody.nl or call +31 515 444 550.

Top Spots to View Autumn Colors from the Water

It's that time of year when leaves change color, crisp autumn scents fill the air and Americans get behind the wheel to take in the season's foliage. But it's boaters who know the best views are from the water and non-boaters might be surprised at how easy it is to climb aboard. Across the country, fall foliage cruises offer nature enthusiasts coveted views of the changing colors creating unforgettable experiences and sights for the whole family.

As the days get shorter, consider turning off the computer and getting on the water to enjoy nature's vibrant fall colors before winter arrives. DiscoverBoating.com can help boat owners plan their next on-the-water adventure and show novices how to get started in boating. If you're not a boat owner but want to experience fall foliage from the water and see for yourself why 87.3 million Americans go boating each year, check out DiscoverBoating.com for tips on how you can give it a try.

Discover Boating surveyed a network of boating experts to compile the eight top U.S. waterways for viewing fall foliage, many of which offer cruising, rental and charter options:

Bar Harbor, Maine

As the entrance to Acadia National Park, Bar Harbor offers spectacular New England autumn scenery along the rugged Maine coast. Boaters can dock locally to explore this charming town and its abundance of seafood restaurants. Novices can take advantage of Bar Harbor's numerous rental and charter opportunities from nature cruises to their very own customized boat ride.

Peak Season: Late September to Mid-October
More Information: Maine.gov

Lake Chelan, Washington

Located on the eastern side of the Cascade Mountains, the narrow and deep 55-mile long lake boasts tree-lined state parks and forest service campgrounds. Lake Chelan also leads to Stehekin, a tiny mountain wilderness village only accessible by water with spectacular scenery. It's easy to enjoy the sparkling water by boat with several marina, charter and rental options in the area. There are also ferries that leave for Stehekin daily, but you can also charter a boat with friends and family.

Peak Season: Mid-September to Mid-October
More Information: fs.fed.us

Lake George, New York

Nicknamed the "Queen of American Lakes" and located at the southeast base of the Adirondacks, Lake George, is the largest lake in the area covering more than 30 miles of shoreline. Nature takes center stage during the autumn months with tree-lined mountainsides surrounding the lake with reds, oranges and golds often painted against clear blue skies. "Leaf Peeping" boat tours are popular at Lake George in addition to many rental and charter options to enjoy the fall scenery from the water.

Peak Season: Late September to Early October
More Information: LakeGeorgeChamber.com

Lake Jocassee, South Carolina

This 7,565-acre, man-made lake is tucked deep in South Carolina's Blue Ridge Mountains and accessible through Devils Fork State Park. It boasts an undeveloped shoreline with picturesque scenery, such as waterfalls cascading into the lake. In addition to outstanding fall foliage at Lake Jocassee, autumn also brings green marsh grasses to shimmering fall hues of gold and amber.

Peak Season: Late October to Early November
More Information: SouthCarolinaParks.com

Lake Monroe, Indiana

Situated in south central Indiana near Bloomington, Lake Monroe is the state's largest lake. Surrounded by 13,200 acres of lush, protected forest and three recreational areas, it's an ideal destination for viewing fall foliage. The lake is served by a full-service marina with nine launch ramps, making it easily accessible for locals and tourists.

Peak Season: Mid-October to Early November
More Information: in.gov

Lake Tahoe, California

Located at 6,225 feet above sea level in the Sierra Nevada Mountains on the border of Nevada and California, Lake Tahoe is a boating paradise. Fall foliage along the shoreline is filled with varied hues of yellow as the aspen trees change color. Visitors may also be fortunate to catch a rare bird migration or the chance of a meteor shower. Those looking to take in the sights aboard a boat have an abundance of options with numerous marina, rental and charter options at their fingertips.

Peak Season: September to November
More Information: CaliforniaFallColor.com

Lake Tellico, Tennessee

With more than 15,000 acres of surface area, 373 miles of shoreline and waterways connecting to Fort Loudon Lake, the Tennessee River and other waterways, Lake Tellico is the perfect boating destination. It's an ideal spot to experience an array of fall colors from the pure blue waters that back up into the Great Smoky Mountains, where onlookers get a unique vantage point of hillsides overflowing in crimson, gold and scarlet leaves. Lake Tellico provides beautiful autumn scenery, but also offers scenic, long-distance cruising options. For instance, boating to a University of Tennessee football game on the Tennessee River outside of Neyland Stadium is a great opportunity to give nature enthusiasts and football lovers the best of both worlds.

Peak Season: Mid-October to Late November
More Information: fall.tnvacation.com

Saugatuck, Michigan

With more than 11,000 inland lakes and 3,200 miles of Great Lakes shoreline, this is a popular destination for those who love life on the water. Michigan's southwestern coast, situated on Lake Michigan, includes the quaint artist's haven of Saugatuck. With spectacular views from the water of tree-lined hillsides, dunes and Lake Michigan sunsets, this is a perfect spot to take in the autumn's hues. Peak Season: Throughout October

Great Time to be Fishin' at Grayton

It's a wonderful time to be at the beach! The last big crush of visitors from Labor Day weekend is over, there are no lines at the restaurants, Red snappers are open on the weekends and there are lots of other fish to catch during the week.

The fall Red Snappers season opened up for 4 days over labor day weekend with lots of folks getting good catches on the days calm enough to go. The remains of hurricane Hermine had the Gulf a little rough for a couple days but all in all we got off easy, it didn't even rain here!

Lots of Vermillions during the week along with some Kings, Mahi, Black Snapper, Grouper etc. We even had a big Tuna on a 3 hr afternoon trip this past week. The fishing should just get better and better as we head into fall with the Kings getting thicker, the bigger snappers moving in and the Groupers starting to feed more.

Red Snapper will remain open on Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays through October.

Florida State waters will also be open for 7 more days in November

!! Our Governor decided that so many folks didn't get to fish with the hurricane that they could open it up a few more days in November with the additional dates being the 5th, 6th, 11th, 12th, 25th, 26th & 27th.

This mornings catch. the trip was supposed to be a 6 hr but we got weathered out and had to come in early.... pretty nice catch for a shortened trip. We spent 1/2 the time catching and releasing big Amberjack for a "biggest fish" bet... the young man won with a 39&1/2 inch big un. His sister would have beat him but a shark got her biggest....

Calm seas, empty beaches and cooler mornings. hard to beat !!! See you offshore.

The tropical system, Hermine, which wreaked havoc upon many areas to our north, spared us its worst, but brought high winds and torrential rains for several days, and fishing was out of the question. The ill effects of the storm were gone by Saturday morning, 9/3, but residual rough seas changed Mark Gordon's plan to fish offshore that morning. He, joined by friends, Josh Shapiro and John Hurst, traded those offshore plans for some backwater fishing in central Estero Bay. Using live shrimp and pinfish, the guys caught five mangrove snapper, a three-pound crevalle jack, and a couple of two-pound stingrays. They had a big redfish or black drum hooked at one point, but it ran under a dock and was lost.

Bob March was wanting to fight some big fish on Tuesday morning, 9/6, so we headed out about 17 miles to a few goliath grouper hide-outs, where Bob battled and released a 50-pound goliath and an approximate 200-pound goliath, both of which bit on blue runners. Bob also caught and released some lane and mangrove snapper, as well as crevalle jacks, all of which bit on squid.

Ingo Merz and his two sons fished with me on Wednesday, 9/7, 23 miles west of New Pass, where they used baitfish to land two keeper red grouper at 21 inches and 22 inches. They used squid to catch a mess of keeper lane snapper—about 50 in all—but they released all but ten of those, needing only enough for a couple of family meals. They also released grunts and about thirty red grouper shorts.

Joe Hogue, son Adam Hogue, and son-in-law, Dave Piper, fished 35 miles west of New Pass with me on Saturday, using squid for bait. The guys caught two keeper red grouper at 22 inches and 23 inches, and also boxed three keeper mangrove snapper to 16 inches and three yellowtail snapper to 15 inches, along with four porgies and a dozen grunts in the 13 to 14-inch range. They released lots and lots of red grouper shorts to 19 1/2 inches, along with a few mangrove and yellowtail shorts. They also released a 30-inch sharpnose shark. Either goliath grouper or shark ate and ran with a couple of fish, but the guys ended up with plenty in the cooler.

Monday, 9/19, Michael Arnero and his girlfriend, Karen Tirella, who had fished Estero Bay with me on Thursday, decided to do the same, this time joined by Michael's brother, Mario. We did our best to fish the best tide, but the tide was not as favorable as it had been on Thursday, when we caught keeper redfish. The group ended up with four keeper mangrove snapper, and they released a dozen mangroves, along with a puffer fish, all of which bit on shrimp. We ventured out a bit to fish along the beach for a while, and released two black-tip sharks, each about 3-foot long.

Four students visiting our area fished the backwaters with me on Thursday morning, 9/22. George Wecken, Peter Havander, and friends, Paul and Jacob, used live shrimp in Little Hickory Bay and also along Bonita Beach to catch a variety of fish. Catches included a 19-inch keeper redfish, a 17-inch keeper black drum, a flounder, and a whiting. George had either a big black drum or a sheepshead hooked a couple of times, but it popped the line just short of boating it. The guys released a two-foot bonnethead shark and a 2-pound stingray.

One of my Aunt Huguette's last wishes was that I spread her ashes at sea. Monday morning I wanted to discharge that responsibility. As I prepped the boat for launch at Port Canaveral a 22' Pathfinder came to the dock. Its occupants backed a trailer down and loaded her up. I walked over and asked them what it was like out there, in spite of the fact that the 15 mph winds out of the east made the answer pretty darn obvious. "Nasty," they said. "We couldn't get out."

I tied the Mitzi back onto the trailer and drove to the St. Johns River, running up the Econ for a couple hours of fruitless casting. Huguette's ashes currently sit on my kitchen table. Hopefully this week coming I can carry out her wish.

Wednesday morning saw a leisurely launch of the kayak at Mosquito Lagoon (get ready for the good news portion here). Within ten minutes I had seen four redfish. I got off the boat and started wading, looking. The first fish I threw to bit, a decent red of about 24 inches. There were bald eagles, spoonbills, manatees, dolphins, more redfish, lots of big mullet - it was an outstanding angling experience.

I ended up with four reds, an Atlantic croaker (first one I've ever gotten in Mosquito Lagoon), a hooked and lost red, and the usual missed shots and blown opportunities. It was solid fishing, all with a six-weight, in spite of the wind, clouds, and dirty water.

Thursday I joined Capt. Chris Myers for some more Mosquito Lagoon fishing, although the start was not nearly as leisurely, since we out there shortly after first light. I don't generally get up that early to fish anymore, but there is undeniably a magic about watching the day unfold. Anyhow... Chris put me on a pod of tailing reds right away. A cast, a bite, a twelve inch seatrout. The reds disappeared.

Between us we had at least a dozen shots at tailing redfish. All mine were with the same black redfish worm I'd used so successfully the previous day. There were no conversions. Chris tried with both fly and spin tackle, for no conversions as well. So finding the tailers and getting the shots worked pretty well. Getting the fish to bite did not work at all.

Still I always enjoy fishing with Chris, who's an outstanding angler. Thank you sir, next one is on me. I hope the east wind quits soon so I can check the ocean!

Shared Fishing Trip

One of the most popular trips we offer is our shared fishing trip. A shared fishing trip can be as few as 3 and as many as 6 individuals that pay a reduced fare and join each other making up a group. Not only can it be fun just from meeting others but on days like this one? It's great having the extra hands to reel! LOL

There are days when we have to look around, searching for our first bite and that school of fish but the last few days, as soon as the baits go in the water, we have had bites almost immediately. Large schools of Bonito have been in our area and while these fish aren't very good to eat, they provide plenty of action and fishing fun. Their real name is a Little Tunny and they are a false Tuna. Anything in the Tuna family will give you quite the struggle as they are fierce fighters. And by hooking one, the others in the school become excited and can hit every line you have out, as happened more than once today.

When fish are biting like this, it is sometimes hard to catch anything but. We also were pleased when a 25 lbs. Wahoo joined us today. He kind of snuck in there on us among all the other fish. A nice Kingfish was also boated.

Bonitos are a welcome sight on a shared fishing trip. First and foremost, it means everyone will catch a fish or two, maybe 3 or 4. LOL We ended up with 28 today. Even the young boy in the picture caught a few on his own. Also included in our catch were some small Barracuda that we released.

If Bonitos aren't very good to eat, why do we keep them? They are a valuable bait source for fishing here. By filleting and thinning the meat on the skin, we make strip baits that we use year round for trolling. We also use some of the smaller ones for whole baits for bigger fish.

So if you are by yourself or maybe just 2 people, you might join us for a shared fishing trip. The fish are chewing, that's for sure.

All Marine Surveying

All Marine Surveying has been serving our customers in Southwest Florida for over 20 years. We perform all types of vessel surveys including general, advanced and insurance surveys. Growing up in Ft. Lauderdale, Florida I have been involved with the marine industry for thirty five years. I worked as a crew-member on several power and sailing yachts, and worked for two boat dealerships rigging, operating & selling power vessels. After four years sailing for the Navy, and receiving an honorable discharge, I pursued a B.A. degree in business. As a United States Coast Guard licensed Six Thousand Ton Master, I have worked in the commercial marine industry for many years. In 2001 we moved to beautiful South Fort Myers. American Marine / ExportAmerican

At American Marine we don't want to "list" your boat, we are here to SELL your boat.

You have probably heard from a lot of brokers wanting to "list your boat". Anyone can list your boat, it takes experience and cutting edge marketing tools with a staff committed to customer satisfaction to actually make her SELL.

The DIFFERENCE American Marine's Marketing makes:

Global Advertising - We spare no expense on advertising. Our philosophy is to flood the market locally, nationally and internationally.

Exports - It's what we do. American Marine Marketing have been exporting boats from Florida (where boats are less expensive than anywhere else in the world) since 1992. Same company, same ownership, same integrity and professionalism for over 19 years.

Reporting - Because of our software, we are able to account to our sellers and provide reporting showing valuable information such as how many times people have viewed their boats, how many leads we have tracked and the current status of potential buyers and pending offers.

Network - Customer satisfaction keeps our existing customer base coming back for their next boat. 20 years of networking with individuals, brokers, wholesalers and retailers alike means we always have customers waiting.

Relationships - With our contacts and offices across the world our customers have the confidence necessary to make long distance, big ticket purchases.

Experience - American Marine pride themselves on the quality and knowledge of our sales force.

Licensed and bonded - You can rest assured that American Marine operates under the highest code of ethics and funds are held in dedicated escrow accounts for everyone's protection.

Slips - Our premier waterfront locations offer the highest visibility to display your yacht. We have all the facilities and services available to maintain, showcase and spotlight your yacht.

Service - This is important to our buyers and seller alike, before and after the sale. Our full service yard with a 77 ton travel lift means no job is too large or too small.

Freight prep - With 90% of our sales going on the road and being delivered out of state or overseas it is an integral part of our logistics that we can handle all prep work from our central and remote service centers.

Trade-ins - Few brokers are in a position to take trade ins, WE ARE.

Bradley Insurance Group / Allstate

Insurance rates sinking your boat? Many people won't realize their present insurance policy isn't "that great"... until it's too late.

Did you know some Insurance Companies don't cover your Boat for "Hurricanes"? Or even Theft? Usually customers, don't realize it... until it's too late... say's Agent Ron Bradley. Hurricane Season is in full force, and Florida is challenging for Boaters to find a policy they can afford, while providing coverage they need.

Having a knowledgeable team who can provide the right coverage can make all the difference. Ron's been one of our sponsors for over 20 years... (you may recognize them) as "Bradley Insurance Group", or BoatInsuranceFlorida.com. Ron is routinely recognized as Allstate's "Agent of the Year", and is a member of their "Hall of Fame" (less than .001% of Agents have ever received this honor).

Bradley Insurance Group is Allstate's #1 Boat Agency in the Country, and has been every year for more than 2 decades. Ron's Team has access to a broad group of Companies. Their experience can be utilized to fit the right policy to the needs of the customer. For instance, a 60' Sportfish has different exposures and concerns than a 16' Flats boat, or a 30' Center Console... the Sportfish might need to know about Crew coverage, or Bahamas travel... while smaller boats might need to discuss coverage for water skiing, or towing. One thing Ron say's they all have in common is they want the "right" coverage.... at the "right price".

Ron Jr. and Chris Bradley head up our Marine Specialty Group and with our team, we can put the right policy together, providing great coverage with great rates! Many times SAVING 30-50% for Customer's. Contact us at www.BoatInsuranceFlorida.com or call 888-977-4500 or 954-785-5000.

Coastal Charts & Maps

Coastal Charts & Maps was founded on the idea that boaters, from cruisers to kayakers, needed charts that were not big and clumsy or in books that either come apart or were hard to follow because they lacked the north-south orientation or you had to search for the next page because it is not in sequence and, in general, most paper charts are useless in a wet environment. After all, we are talking about boating. A format was selected based on many conversations with boaters of all types on what was needed, and a chart size of 11 x 17 double sided with great color was selected. Then, have it waterproofed and protected from the sun's rays with 10 mil of high grade UV lamination which can be written on and used over and over again. This chart size is easy to handle in all conditions eliminating the storage problems associated with rolled up large charts and clumsy chart kits. We have been on the right track for 17 years and we know this because larger companies try and duplicate what we do.

The principals in Coastal Charts & Maps bring over 35 years of Boating, Cruising and Boat Building into this business and with the ability to provide customized charts, Coastal Charts & Maps established itself as the leader in this unique field.

John Lilla / Quality Boats

John Lilla has been a yacht broker since the year 2000. I am affiliated with Quality Boats of Tampa Bay, based in Clearwater, Florida. Licensed by the state of Florida as yacht broker, I work with buyers and sellers from Florida, around the country and internationally. In addition to brokerage I can offer you new boats and yachts from Grady-White, Pursuit and Regal. Quality Boats is a leading dealer for all three manufacturers. If you are looking for new or pre-owned, we can consider your trade. Quality Boats enjoys a top 10 ranking by NMMA out of their nearly 5,000 dealers. In my early years in the boat business I was affiliated with dealers of Carver, Cruisers, Inc., and Marquis yachts. Our emphasis was on family cruising yachts from 32 to 65 feet – new and pre-owned. I had the pleasure of selling the first Marquis 59 built, first as a new yacht and later in a brokerage transaction. In addition to the boats mentioned, I have helped sellers and buyers of a variety of vessels including Hatteras, Viking, Azimut, Sunseeker, Neptunus, Grand Banks, Trojan, Sea Ray, Mainship, Silverton, Tiara, Cranchi, Wellcraft, and others. It was here that his journey began and the foundations were laid for him to become the marine engine specialist that he is today. In 1992 he was offered a position at Tierra Verde Marina where he honed his skills and received extensive training and experience in Mercury, Yamaha and OMC outboards. Shawn thrived in the environment and with hard work, was promoted to Service Manager in 2003. He continued serving the St. Petersburg community until the sale of Tierra Verde Marina in late 2005 after which he went to work for Sunray Boats of Pasco. At Sunray he received even more training on some of the other manufacturers such as Suzuki, Honda, Volvo and Mercruiser while once again training to become Service Manager. It was in 2011 that Shawn returned to St. Petersburg when offered a position at Maximo Marina as the Lead Outboard Technician and was promoted to Service Manager in December 2015. National Marine Institute

National Marine Institute's prime mission is to provide marine science educational programs for children in South Florida. Established in 1996, this organization has educated hundreds of students through its FREE classes and educational field trips.

Classroom sessions consist of lectures, discussions, videos, and labs. The curriculum introduces oceanography, marine biology, conservation, and ecology, with a concentration on Florida's coral reefs, mangrove hammocks, and the Everglades. Students experience airboat and canoe outings, beach cleanups, turtle walks, marine parks, science museums, nature centers, snorkeling, and other marine or educational locations.

Classes are modified for specific groups. Instructors work with Scout groups to earn Merit Badges, 4-H Clubs, Home Scholars, Marine Biology Clubs, public and private schools, Science Departments and others.

NMI does not receive any Federal or State funding and relies on private donors to support this program. Boat owners eliminate the expense and frustration of trying to sell their vessel, often receiving the same value in a combination of cash and tax deductions when they donate their vessel.

For more information or for available boats, please contact National Marine Institute at 3907 North Federal Highway, #193, Pompano Beach, FL 33064. Call: 954-788-8840. Email at marineinstitute@msn.com or check out their web site at http://www.marineinstitute.org

Suzuki Marine

Because Life is More Fun at the Top. As a motor company – not a boat company – we've been "building up" to this for years. Frankly, the other guys never had a chance. No other outboard company could draw on Suzuki's technology and experience designing high-output, lightweight 4-stroke engines for the worldwide marine, automobile, motorcycle and ATV markets.

This experience was backed by a commitment to 4-stroke technology that never wavered. While other companies experimented with alternative 2-stroke technologies to meet clean air standards, Suzuki stuck with what it does best. And without looking back, we've been giving you our best – reliable, powerful 4-strokes that are a perfect fit for today's boats.

The result is the industry's largest all-4-stroke lineup. From our mini-might 2.5 horsepower portable right up to our new flagship 4-liter 300-horsepower V6, Suzuki offers a powerful choice for every American boater. Twenty models in all, each packed with advanced features and cutting edge technology that could only come from the 4-stroke leader.

We may have reached the top of the mountain, but we're not done climbing. Expect bigger and better things from Suzuki in the future. We do. Like more powerful, quiet and fuel efficient 4-strokes that give boaters the performance and reliability they demand. And a growing national dealer network to provide the service, support and accessories boaters need.

See all the great industry innovations by stopping in at your local Suzuki Dealer or visit our Web-Site: www.Suzukimarine.com

Whiticar Yacht Sales

Some say our approach to how we treat our customers is just a form of southern hospitality. Located on Florida's Treasure Coast, we attribute this to the time honored pride in our work and the relationships we are fortunate to build. It simply comes down to our genuine commitment to take care of our customers. To us, it is a way of life.

Our company has remained at the forefront of the boating community and marine industry since 1947 because of our devotion to quality work and passion for the boating lifestyle. Evolving from the original boat yard located in Stuart, Florida, Whiticar Boat Works has grown to five divisions, all of which are owned and operated by the same family you have come to know and trust for more than 60 years.

When Curt Whiticar built his first boat in 1925, he didn't know that he was crafting more than just a recreational fishing boat. He was creating the foundation of Whiticar Boat Works.

Whiticar Boat Works was founded by family, and is run today by that same family. But for us, the word family extends beyond sharing the same last name or bloodline - it extends to our employees as well as our customers. Once you are a Whiticar customer, you - and your boat - become part of our family.

In the same way that no two days at sea are exactly the same, no two boats will require the exact same service. That's where Whiticar excels. Our team averages more than 28 years of marine experience per employee. Each boat receives the "white glove treatment," with unmatched attention to every last detail. Stop by or contact us to discuss the services we can provide for any of your boating needs.

Representing clients with boats in the 30'-100' range, our brokerage's connection to the boating community is unsurpassed. Whether you are looking to buy or sell, you can rest assured knowing that your investment is in good hands. Our honest, well-established, family oriented business truly cares and caters to each and every one of our customers and gives 150 percent personal care before and after the sale. Yacht Registry, a full service brokerage firm, Sabre dealer, Back Cove dealer and home of Heritage East Trawlers was founded in 1987 by its current owner, Mark Reder. With offices in Dunedin, Florida, just north of Clearwater and Naples, Florida, Yacht Registry offers professional and personalized yacht brokerage services as confirmed by a long list of satisfied customers. From initial contact through vessel inspection, survey, commissioning, financing and closing, we handle all the details.

Yacht Registry specializes in Downeast Yachts, Trawlers and Motor Yachts.

We are proud to be one of only ten Sabre powerboat dealers in the United States. Sabre Yachts, built in Maine, are the finest examples of cutting edge construction methods, producing a traditional "Downeast" high speed, economical cruiser. We are past recipients of Sabre's coveted "Broker of the Year" award, "Dealership of the Year" awards and "Outstanding Dealership" awards. Sabre has been building boats "in the Maine Tradition" for over 40 years. Sabre currently builds product from 38' to 66' with several models of each size and all available with pod drives (IPS or Zeus). If it is not at our docks, Yacht Registry always has Sabre product on order for delivery. If a pre-owned Sabre is your choice we usually have a number of models listed.

The Back Cove series of single diesel, "Downeast" style yachts in 30', 32', 34', 37' and 41' models were first introduced in the fall of 2003. We are proud to be one of only six original dealers selected by this respected Maine boat builder.

From initial commissioning to custom installations, there simply is no other dealer or broker with our knowledge and hands-on experience. Contact one of our licensed professionals today and find out why buying or selling with Yacht Registry will be such an enjoyable experience.
